

Cages Of My Heart

Jeff Black

I want to keep you in the cages of my heart
To navigate the hallows
On a prayer out through the dark
A sounding light to follow
So that we may never part
I want to keep you in the cages of my heart

I want to raise you from the ashes of my dreams
I want to feel the reconstruction
Rushing through my brittle veins
I want to know good change is coming
Just by whispering your name
I want to raise you from the ashes of my dreams

To take you with me where I go
To take you with me where I go

I want to fly you down the dirt roads of my soul
To the marks along the levee
Where the muddy waters roll
I want to take you down there with me
To where no one else will go
I want to fly you down the dirt roads of my soul

To prove my love is true
To prove my love is true
