

The Adventures of Cupid and Puck

Jem

I had to tell you, to tell you the truth
Couldn't keep hiding my feelings from you
Figured that it was the brave thing to do
Even though deep down I sort of knew

And I found out you didn't feel quite the same
But your words were so lovely I'd hear them again
Now the brave thing is to live through the pain
Keep opening up cause there's no one to blame

People say there's plenty more fish in the sea
But I ain't got time to go fishing you see
Cause I know that I've found the pearl of the sea
So why would I wanna go searching down deep

I suppose it's quite funny, quite funny to see
How Cupid got stoned and aimed right at me
Or maybe so tired he fell right asleep
Forgot what I wanted was your company

Or maybe inspired he was acting a scene
Taken from Shakespeare's Midsummer Night's Dream
Tired of love's failings he plotted a scheme
Cupid and Puck would've made quite a team

People say there's plenty more fish in the sea
But I ain't got time to go fishing you see
Cause I know that I've found the pearl of the sea
Yes I know that I've found the One

But I'm not afraid of rejection this time
I won't go home, won't go home and cry
Cause I can accept this emotion is mine
And I'm just so happy that we shared this time

Maybe one day this jewel of the sea
Will wake up feel different and come searching for me
Suddenly realize it was all meant to be
Maybe the Gods will shine down on me

Or maybe one day something will change
Maybe I'll wake up, won't feel quite the same
Maybe I'll wanna go fishing again
Maybe I'll wanna go fishing
Again
