

Come My Way

Jennifer Chung

When he comes along,
The world will know that we were meant to be.
When he comes along,
He'll dedicate songs & go that extra mile for me.

I get excited and I smile.
'Cause it's worth having to wait a while.
Love, love never ever runs out of style.

Patience is a virtue,
A virtue that is easier to preach.
But practicing makes perfect,
And the point of it is worth it.
It's not that impossible to reach.

I get excited and I smile.
'Cause it's worth having to wait a while.
Love, love never ever runs out of style.

And I know you're out there,
Preparing your heart for me.
And there's no more time to compromise what's written for you and me.

Just know that when I say,
That'll I'll pray for you,
I will follow through everyday.
I can't wait until you come my way.

I've been made a fool,
Fooled by many others before.
So I can be a skeptic,
But it's time for me to forget it.
I refuse to let it jade me.
I refuse to let it shake me.
I refuse to let it break me anymore.

I get excited and I smile.
'Cause it's worth having to wait a while.
Love, love never ever runs out of style.

And I know you're out there,
Preparing your heart for me.
And there's no more time to compromise what's written for you and me.

Just know that when I say,
That'll I'll pray for you,
I will follow through everyday.
I can't wait until you come my way.
