Try To Say Goodbye

Jennifer Love Hewitt

I'm holding a letter that I wrote last night Trying to remember what it says inside The words are written but have never been said Your voice keeps calling in my head I don't believe it's time

But I try to say goodbye But I feel so lost inside I don't' know my name and I can't erase What's weighing on my mind

It says I'll be leaving on the red eye plane But I know I'll be coming back again You've heard this story a thousand times The song keeps playing in your mind I'm asking myself why

I try to stay awake I'm trying to write the words an I'm trying to write the word goodbye