

Now That It's Over

Jennifer Rush

You and I
Took the road as far as it would go
Said goodbye
Now one more time you call to let me know
We did the only thing we could
Talked it out and understood
Now there's one last thing I need to know.

Now that it's over
Now that we've finally reached the end
Now that it's over
When all of the love we both depended on
Is far from gone
Still we wonder why it never ends
So now that it's over
Maybe we should start again.

Mmm, babe

They say time
Time will always mend the hearts that ache
Give her time
So tell me just how long this feeling takes
If getting over me is hard to do
You should try getting over you
Should we know by now
There's one move left to make.

Now that it's over
Now that we've finally reached the end
Now that it's over
When all of the love we both depended on
Is far from gone
Can we walk away and just pretend
'Cause now that it's over
Maybe we should start again.

Sometimes you have to walk away before you find
The love you lost may never come again
Maybe it's you and I
Who had to say goodbye.

'Cause now, now that it's over
Now that we finally reached the end
Now that it's over
When all of the love we both depended on is far from gone
Can we both admit it just won't end
'Cause now that it's over
Maybe we should start again.

Now that it's over
Maybe, maybe we should start again.

Now that we finally reached the end
Oh, now all the love we both depended on
Is so far from gone
Do we walk way and just pretend

'Cause now that it's over.
