

The Last Day Of Summer

Jennifer Rush

There are times I can visualise
Lonely nights without you in my life Took a
Long time to see
Want to make you believe
Our love will survive
The last day of summer
Sitting here now
I see the pouring rain
Just a thought of you
Makes me wonder again
How I've opened my heart
And can promise to be
Faithfully yours finally
I believe I surrender
From the mountains of faith
Through the rivers of tears
I believe and I surrender
Even though I don't know what the future
Might hold As our fate unfolds now I will not
Let go
Our love will survive
The last day of summer
I remember how it used to be
Was a miracle you understood but still Had to Break down those walls
That kept me from a dream
That's all come true because of you
I believe I surrender
From the mountains of faith
Through the rivers of tears
I believe and I surrender
Even though I don't know what the future
Might hold As our fate unfolds now I will not
Let go
Our love will survive
I believe I surrender
From the mountains of faith
Through the rivers of tears
I believe and I surrender
Even though I don't know what the future
Might hold As our fate unfolds now I will Never let go
Our love will survive
The last day of summer,
The last day of summer, the last day of Summer
