

Wings Of Desire

Jennifer Rush

So many things I wanna do
So many things (oh)
But time's a thief stealing our lives away
So time be good and time be slow
Give us the chance (oh)
To take this love and see how far it can go
And baby can't you see what could be
Has only just begun
And baby you and me we could be
Up with the lucky ones

And we'll never know until we try
Don't let another day pass by (oh)
I want to fly on the wings of desire

We lay our lives between the lines
Follow the rules (oh)
Our souls in chains, but this carefulness wears thin
So be good and time be slow
Give us the chance (oh)
To take this love and see how far it can go
And every day we wait-hesitate
My courage sinks again
And aren't we young enough, brave enough
To run against the wind

And we'll never know until we try
Don't let another day pass by (oh)
I want to fly on the wings of desire
And we'll never know until we try
Don't let another day pass by (oh)
I want to fly on the wings of desire

And we'll never know until we try
Don't let another day pass by (oh)
I want to fly on the wings of desire
Oh baby I want to fly
Make my home in the sky
I wanna soar wanna fall
I wanna feel it all on the wings of desire
