

Secrets

Jenny Owen Youngs

i've got secrets up to here, love don't you worry your pretty head i'm just playing to your fears, love where am i when you're in bed?

i know where you go
(is that what you think?)
i know where you go

don't ask me where i was those other nights don't wonder why i wasn't by your side what difference does it make?
you're asking - who? who? who?
don't i always come back home to you?

i'm just waiting for that time, love not that you would care to learn i can't help but open wide every time, love you can't help but run

(is that what you think?)
i know where you go

what difference does it make?

your window left open smells like invitation i can't stop, don't try to make me sleep without you

don't you worry your pretty head
i can't help but open wide everytime, love
where am i when you're in bed?
