I don't want a girl
Who hangs on every word I say
Who shows me off to her parents
Over roast beef on Sunday
I don't want a girl
Who thinks she has to fake
I don't want a girl
Who laughs at every little joke I make

I just want someone
To share my life with
I just want someone
To share my life with

I don't want a girl
Who thinks there's only me to please
I don't want a girl
Who thinks it's fun to tease
I don't want a girl
Who thinks she has to cater for my every needs
I don't want a girl to go down on her knees

I just want someone
To share my life with
I just want someone
To share my life with
And that someone could be you that someone could be you

You could be that someone You could be that someone
