

Be The One

Jeremy Camp

And all these dreams I've made
I take them all and lay them down
In light of reasons I have found now
And I can rest in knowing you will open every door
Instead of forcing my own world now
I'd rather wait on you

You'll be the one to call me out
I have found that it's the only way
You'll be the one to call me out
I have found that it's the only way

I know that I have plans but you will take me every step
You have covered all my debt now
And I have realized these empty fames that people crave
Are based on hopes of what they've made now
I'd rather wait on you

Well there's more than what I'm feeling
Well there's more than what I'm feeling