

Can't Be Moved

Jeremy Camp

I can't lean on the earthly things
'Cause it's broke and gonna fade
And I can't stand on the dirt below
'Cause this dust gonna blow away
You say, hey now, follow Me, gonna go to the promise land
You say, hey child, don't forget that the Lord is coming back

When everything in this world is falling
We have a Kingdom that can't be moved
People get ready Heaven is a calling
We have a Kingdom that can't be, that can't be moved

When the waters rise, don't be surprised
When the force tries to pull you in
We'll be found on the solid ground
Won't be no slave to sin

You say, hey now, trumpet sound, all the saints gonna board the train
You say, hey child, don't you fear, what's dead's gonna rise again

Truth be told, silver and gold ain't where my treasure's found
So when I die, gonna open my eyes with a different kind of crown
