

Where Are You Now

Jermaine Jackson

Where are you love, with all my dreams?
Where are the things that we once believed?
I thought we would stay together
Where are you now that I'm so lost inside?
Where are you now that you left my love behind?

Where are the lips, drippin' with love?
Your kiss was sent straight from heaven above!
I thought you would leave me never
Where are the arms that used to hold me tight?
Where are you now that you left my love behind?

Where are you girl, with all my love?

Where are my dreams?
Broken in two
I never knew that would come from you
I thought you'd be mine forever love
Where are you now that all I can do is cry
Where are you now that you left my love behind?
Where are you now that you left my love behind

Where are you girl, with all my love?
Where are you girl, with all my love?
