

I Can't Give In Anymore

Jerrod Niemann

I'm tired of rolling down the same road
Sometimes, it feels like I'm just holding on to hope
Baby, can't you see we don't have to be Anything other than what we've ever been

How much more can we both take
Is this where we bend or where we break

'Cause I'm tired of waitin' on the other side
Waitin' for you to make up your mind
'Cause you're makin' up mine
And I'm tired of the hell that we're livin' in
Fightin' for one that takes two to win
And this time, I'm gonna walk away
If things ain't like they were before
'Cause I can't give in anymore

Honesty is something that we both swore
But honestly, I don't know if I know you anymore
We don't have to fake, we don't have to make
This thing bigger than it really is

Did you say goodbye, I'm still not sure
I've seen the signs, so just say the words

'Cause I'm tired of waitin' on the other side
Waitin' for you to make up your mind
'Cause you're makin' up mine
And I'm tired of the hell that we're livin' in
Fightin' for one that takes two to win
And this time, I'm gonna walk away
If things ain't like they were before
'Cause I can't give in anymore
I can't give in anymore

See, I'm tired of waitin' on the other side
Waitin' for you to make up your mind
'Cause you're makin' up mine
And I'm tired of the hell that we're livin' in
Fightin' for one that takes two to win
And this time, I'm gonna walk away
If things ain't like they were before
'Cause I can't give in anymore
Yeah, I can't give in anymore

I'm tired of rolling down the same road
