

One More Drinkin' Song

Jerrod Niemann

Yeah

Today I wanted to write a tune started strummin' this little groove,
I could've wrote about love or money something sad or something funny,

But hey, hey, hey what's so wrong with one more drinkin' song,
Hold up your cups and sing along to one more drinkin' song

And if by chance this brings you cheer maybe someday you'll bring me a beer
Or not to mention my favorite drink a marga-daiquiri-screw-aloda-on the beach

Hey, hey, hey what's so wrong with one more drinkin' song
Hold up your cups and sing along to one more drinkin' song
So here's to cheap whiskey and fine wine buyin' shots and pick up lines
And here's to bartenders tryin' to get paid when all of us are tryin' to get...

Hey, hey, hey what's so wrong with one more drinkin' song
Hold up your cups and sing along to one more drinkin' song
Hey, hey, hey what's so wrong with one more drinkin' song
Hold up your cups and sing along to one more drinkin' song
Hold up your cups and sing along to one more drinkin' song
