

Boogie Mama

Jerry Jeff Walker

Just like the weather in Texas, you put me through too many changes

You don't give a damn, for no livin' man

And I doubt there's one that would claim you

Hey boogie mama, rock 'n roll queen, wild and strangest I've ever seen

Get your leg sweaty and shake it at me

It's ladies night tonight, you know your drinking for free

We were pickin' at the Frontier, Mama, sippin' on a long cold beer

Now much to my surprise, someone I didn't recognize

Walked in and the whole place got stuffy

Get your leg sweaty and shake it at me

It's ladies night tonight, you know your drinking for free

Now you heard about the honky-tonk women,

And the places that they hang out and hang in

But there'll never be a gal like my old Caledonia

She put you home on the ranges, yeah
