

Pegasi

Jesca Hoop

You've found a map to my heart
It lead you to the well
You combed at my mane
I'll wear your saddle and reigns

With all these stars at my feet
I'll stamp and tap the spring
With my rider and mount
I feel like spreading my wings
Take to the sky like poetry

When we're in love, we're alive
You're the envy of the sky
Every ember wants to ride the supernova
But I fear you'll see the day
When I've endured all I can take
I won't bend but I will break
Under the weight

Because you broke within me
What others could not tame
I'll summon the wind
And do your bidding day by day

With your firm strong hand
We're steady towards the north
We are a thing of beauty
Lead by the fires of iron ore
You're good old girl
Was built to soar

When we're in love, we're alive
You're the envy of the sky
Every ember wants to ride the supernova
But I fear you'll see the day
When I've endured all I can take
I won't bend but I will break
Under the weight

Dying star
Dying star
Dying star

Through many love lit moons
I served my rider well
I suffered the bid
And took his spur into my side
And still I paid the price
And I shook that bridle free
And my beloved rider fell from the stars into the sea
You're of the earth
I'm pegasi

When we're in love, we're alive
You're the envy of the sky
Every ember wants to ride the supernova
But I fear you'll see the day

When I've endured all I can take
I won't bend but I will break
Under the weight

Dying star
Dying star
