

Fly Away

Jessica Lowndes

Lick my wounds until I'm useless
And love is only just a state of mind
Bite my tongue to keep the words back
And tell me something, everything's just fine

Words I wish I said instead
I let your thirst build up inside
I wanna fly away, I just wanna fly away.
I just wanna fly away, I just wanna fly away.

Your love sick lips, sweet talking poison
I feel the venom flowing through my veins
You got me jaded, manipulated
Living with one foot in the grave

Words I wish I said instead
I let your thirst build up inside
I wanna fly away, I just wanna fly away.
I just wanna fly away, I just wanna fly away.

I love you, I want you, I need you, I want you gone.
I love you, I want you, I need you, I want you gone.
I love you, I want you, I need you, I want you gone.
I love you, I want you, I need you, but I want you gone.

I wanna fly away, I just wanna fly away.
I just wanna fly away, I just wanna fly away.
I just wanna fly away, I just wanna fly away.
I just wanna fly away, I just wanna fly away
