

Back to You

Jessica Simpson

When I first saw you I already knew
I was breakin my own heart when I fell for you
A meant to be moment of lovers taboo
When I let my mind wander it brings me right back there to you

What a beautiful house with the city lights few
No white picket fence
No porch swing for two
But the lights they just sparkle like your eyes used to do
When I let my mind wander it brings me right back there to you

I'll get away here's my chance to be free
Cause I can't feel tied down to something I don't see
But why do I stay married
To all those memories
When I let my mind wander it brings me right back there to you
When I let my mind wander it brings me right back

How will you find me through the thunder and the rain
Cast away these clouds filled with so much pain
Everytime that I fly..
Everytime that I cry
Everytime that I say goodbye
It's cause I'm missin you
I'm missin you

When my mind wanders baby
It brings me right back

I should find peace in the still of the night
I lie awake cause you're not by my side
These arms of mine left empty cause you're not in my life
When I let my mind wander it brings me right back there to you
