

Again

J Sutta

Once again, invincible, a snowy night
Is numbing your soul, but by the time
The morning comes, the legend bursts,
Crashing to the floor
Oh, oh, oh, oh, oh, oh, oh, uh, oh
Crashing to the floor
Oh, oh, oh, oh, oh, oh, oh, uh, oh
And then you do it again

And then you do it again
Cause you think it's the road to salvation
And then you do it again
Tell me what, whatcha running for?
And then you do it again
Cause you need it to feed the sensation
And then you do it again
Wanna mend what ya done before?
And then you do it again

You're beautiful, under the glow of neon lights
So nobody knows, the beauty fails,
Under the sun, the glitter comes,
Crashing to the floor
Oh, oh, oh, oh, oh, oh, oh, uh, oh
Crashing to the floor
Oh, oh, oh, oh, oh, oh, oh, uh, oh

And then you do it again
Cause you think it's the road to salvation
And then you do it again
Tell me what, whatcha running for?
And then you do it again
Cause you need it to feed the sensation
And then you do it again
Wanna mend what ya done before?
And then you do it again

Blackout the sun, hide from everyone
Lay down your head, find me again and again
I'll be waiting, faithful, patient
Always the saviour, never, never the saved

Cause you think it's the road to salvation
And then you do it again
Tell me what, whatcha running for?
And then you do it again
Cause you need it to feed the sensation
And then you do it again
Wanna mend what ya done before?
And then you do it again

Cause you need it to feed the sensation
And then you do it again
Wanna mend what ya done before?
And then you do it again

Cause you need it to feed the sensation

And then you do it again
Wanna mend what ya done before?
And then you do it again
