

White Lies

Jessy

These mixed-up emotions too hard to controle
We need to make a decision
I know that it's hurting your body and soul
Your heart is ripped out by excision
I need to breath again
I hope you'll understand

I've been telling you white lies
I can't take it much longer
My heart is stronger
It's time to face the music and let go
Need a new beginning no more sinning
Just a brand new start as fresh as snow

Too many sleepless nights in the dark
Trying to find out the answers
Can't stay 'cause my conscience is playing me parts
Don't regret taken the chances
That life has given me
You'll have to set me free

I've been telling you white lies
I can't take it much longer
My heart is stronger
It's time to face the music and let go
Need a new beginning no more sinning
Just a brand new start as fresh as snow

Mixed up emotions (6 times fade in)
You'll have to set me free

I've been telling you white lies
I can't take it much longer
My heart is stronger
It's time to face the music and let go
Need a new beginning no more sinning

I've been telling you white lies
I can't take it much longer
My heart is stronger
It's time to face the music and let go
Need a new beginning no more sinning
Just a brand new start as fresh as snow

Just a brand new start as fresh as snow
