

From Love To War

Jesus Jones

Should I hold you to the light would I see right through you?
If I question what you are will it bring me any closer to you?
From love to war what we aim for is to keep the illusion
You can take your conscience for a lover and satisfied there is no other
You can dream, you can dream
Any doubts we have had better not show
What good would they do us leaving us nowhere to go?
From love to war what we aim for is to keep the illusion
Taking a stand for the benefit of man and angry with pride beca use
God is on our side
I could do with some sleep 'cause the rubbish I talk is getting deep
And if I don't believe in you then there's nothing I can do
But throw myself at walls and love no one at all
From love to war what we aim for is to keep the illusion
You can take your conscience for a lover and satisfied there is no other
You can dream, you can dream
You can dream
