

Zeroes And Ones

Jesus Jones

Across the world the message flies, information, truth and lies
It's all yours and it's all mine, you just have to find the time

We're all the same, we share the blame, we play the games
If it's yes or no the decision is easy, it's easy

Zeros and ones will take us there
Zeros and ones will take us there

This time the revolution will be computerized
You'll know it as you do it in real time before your eyes
Slip between realities
There's more to this than anything that you or I can see
The world is mine the world is yours and here's the cause

Zeros and ones will take us there
Zeros and ones will take us there

I've stared into the heart of it all
Seen the pictures on the wall
The beat of a heart
The oceans part and the patterns in my mind

This time, we've split the world once more
There's those that have and that don't in information wars
We're not alone 'cause all is known and it's everywhere
It's everywhere

Zeros and ones will take us there
Zeros and ones will take us there
Zeros and ones will take us there
