Paparazzi, can't make the man. Paparazzi, can't break the man.

Next to the transit lounge See the paparazzi tears. No-one came in today From boston or tangiers. And in departures Only faceless trippers trip, Loaded with duty free Held in white knuckle grip.

Snap it up, flash away Steal a camel for a day. Break the story in heavy type The news is running late tonight.

Be-decked with nikon necklaces Hear the paparazzi cries. Under their noses walk The famous in disguise. Conspicuously huddled there But no-one stops to look. They've got their crayons out To colour in the book.

Snap it up, flash away Steal a camel for a day. Break the story in heavy type Paparazzi won't be home tonight.

Paparazzi - write it down.
Paparazzi - turn it around.
Paparazzi - take it, fake it,
Break it.
`cos it's a story.
Now someone's cut the lines
Communication's down.
Celebrities surround
And jab their fingers at me.
They kiss but I can't tell.
Even poor paparazzi
Must have privacy as well.

Snap it up, flash away Steal a camel for a day. Break the story in heavy type The news is running late tonight.
