

Fading

Jewel

It's Walmart, the bathroom
I'm staring in the mirror
Florescent lights are bright
It makes the lines clearer
Where did the Angel go?
Cigarette smoke's all that's left
I've traded my wings in for a string of pearls
And a string is all I've left

The lighbulbs burns
Someone's in the stall
Big white, brick wall
Makes me feel small
And I take my shirt off
Looking for a glimpse of flesh
Peel back the concrete
Hope there's something that true left

Cuz I am fading
I am fading
I am fading away
I am fading just like fairytales
An a hero loses faith
I am fading

The air smells like urine
It's gettin hard to breathe
I could walk out that door
But no one ever really leaves
And I take my clothing off
Trying not to forget
Stupid things like the color of rain
And the smell of stone when it's wet

I am fading
I am fading
I am fading away
I am fading just like fairytales
An a hero loses faith

And I am naked in the mirror
With a feather in my hand
A lady comes out of the bathroom screaming
"Oh Jesus!"
She couldn't understand
But I ask her, "Hey, what happens to us when we get old and in the way?"
I guess she answered me
Cause they, they took me away

I am fading
I am fading
I am fading away

And I don't know how
And I don't know when

Don't know when I forgot
Hope I'll remember again
I am fading
