If I Have To Go Away

Here I am with my head in my hands With a tear each day of the year This is not, not at all what I planned (what I planned) I've to say what cannot be clear I'm going away from you

If I have to go away (If I have to go away) There'll be time enough to say Why I ruined a good thing I never know How I loved and lost a thing I wanted most, most

There you are, you're so near yet so far Out of reach to one who can't speak Just the pass makes me silent and more (more and more) Makes my mind unable to think I'm going away from you

If I have to go away (If I have to go away) There'll be time enough to say Why I ruined a good thing I never know How I loved and lost a thing I wanted most, most

If I have to go away (If I have to go away) There'll be time enough to say Why I ruined a good thing I never know How I loved and lost a thing I wanted most

If I have to go away (If I have to go away) There'll be time enough to say Why I ruined a good thing I never know
