

Just Another Clown

Jigsaw

I'm so broken-hearted
She has let me down
She's been telling people
I am just a clown
But I'm afraid to cry
'Cause crying is for fools
Although she puts me down
By treating me so cruel

Oh, all I ask is that you think of me tonight
Even though I may be sharing you with someone new

When you take me home
We always kiss goodnight
As I close the door
My face all turns to white
I know she's waiting
I can see the lights go down
I never thought that she Could ever turn me down

Oh, all I ask is that you think of me tonight
Even though I may be sharing you with someone new
