

Lying

Jigsaw

Time to face reality
One thing is very clear to me
You fooled me with your kisses
Cheated me with your eyes

You're lying through your smile, you're lying
All the while you're trying
To fool me with your lies

Truth can't really hurt me now
I know about him anyhow
Why hide the fact you love him?
Why pretend with your eyes?

You're lying, now I know you're lying
Something warm is dying
Too late for second tries

Lying through your smile, you're lying
All the while you're trying
To fool me with your lies

Lying, now I know you're lying
Something warm is dying
Too late for second tries

Lying through your smile, you're lying
All the while you're trying
To fool me with your lies
