One Step Too Far

Lost in a dream I thought that I could take it all Part of my scheme To wait and watch your teardrops fall

Everyday you had your way Pushed me round Until today

You've passed the point of no return One step too far Turn and watch your bridges burn One step to far Really is the last straw Now there's no more one more

You've taken just one step too far

Never again I seem to say that everyday Ten out of Ten For making me say it again Anyway, I've had my say It's over now Because Today

You've passed the point of no return One step too far Turn and watch your bridges burn One step to far Really is the last straw Now there's no more one more

You've passed the point of no return One step too far Turn and watch your bridges burn One step to far Really is the last straw Now there's no more one more

You've passed the point of no return One step too far Turn and watch your bridges burn One step to far Really is the last straw Now there's no more one more.... Jigsaw
