

Tender Touch Of Love

Jim Ed Brown

(We'll tell you of the tender touch of love)
I felt the sturdy hand of fate upon me and I felt the sting of love's burning pain
I felt the happiness of those around me
But I never felt the touch of love's sweet hand
The tender touch of love and understanding
That makes your body tremble with true love
They say a million words could not describing I never felt the
tender touch of love
I felt the needing hands say I love you
But when the need was gone they'd turn away
Then your love touched my heart with complete love
You fill my needs with loving every day
Your tender touch of love and understanding
Just makes my body tremble with true love
When you touch me a million words could not describing Each time I feel tender touch of love
