

Will I Ever Stop Loving You

Jim Ed Brown

Will I ever stop loving you
Will I ever stop reaching into empty space to recapture the dream we once knew
Will I ever stop trying to forget your face will I ever stop loving you
Does this long endless road in my life have an end or must I go on stumbling through
Is the valley of forgetfulness round the bend will I ever stop loving you

Will I ever stop running away from myself like fools that love too much will do
In search of your likeness and somebody new will I ever stop loving you
Does this long endless road
Will I ever stop loving you
