

Give Me One More Kiss

Jim Reeves

Give me one more kiss
For happiness I'll miss
For when I turn and walk away
We'll never kiss again.
Let me gaze upon you tenderly
The way you used to look at me
When we were happy and I thought
Our love would never end.

Everything is different now
The flame of love went out some how
I have a funny feelin' down inside
That the happiness I'm searchin' for
Is waiting on some foriegn shore
So darling, give me one more kiss
Before we say goodbye.

Give me one more kiss
One moment more of bliss
Before I turn my back on love
And break a heart that's true.
For a pretty girl aloud me some
Is all the happiness I've known
And I could never settle down
As you would have me do.

Memphis, Dallas, Sante Fe
I loved them all they're calling me
I want to see the open road again
I'm leaving just the way I came
It's best if you forgot my name
So darling, give me one more kiss
For things that might have been.

Give me one more kiss
And please remember this
I'm not the kind to take a heart
And break it just for fun.
And I know I'll miss your smiling face
I want to feel your warm embrace
But wonderlust is in my soul
I must be movin' on.

Even though your love is real
I've told you just the way I feel
It seem that there is nothin' more to say
I hear my train a-comin' now
I know you'll get along some how
So darling, give me one more kiss
And I'll be on my way...
