The World You Left Behind

Jim Reeves

I try to sleep to kill the pain When I wake it's still the same 'Cause I'm living in This world you left behind

Just like a broken piece of glass You have swept me aside to pass Leaving shattered dreams With a lonely heart and mind

Well here I go again
(Here I go again)
It's just like yesterday
(Just like yesterday
The pain is deep within
My heart to stay

I'm just a fool to sit and cry
Wasting years before I do
In this lonely world
This world you left behind

Well here I go again
(Here I go again)
It's just like yesterday
(Just like yesterday)
The pain is deep within
My heart to stay-ay

I'm just a fool to sit and cry Wasting years before I die In this lonely world This world you left behind
