I Really Don't Want To Know

Jimmy Dean

How many arms have held you and hated to let you go How many how many I wonder but I really don't want to know How many lips have kissed you and set your soul aglow How many how many I wonder but I really don't want to know So always make me wonder and always make me guess And even if I ask you darling don't confess Just let it remain me your secret cause darling I love you so How many how many I wonder but I really don't want to know No I really don't want to know want to know
