Carry You

Jimmy Eat World

When I know I'm all alone Say your name slowly And I know that I'm alone But I'll carry you

Does it feel good like a memory When you try some history It's a dream to come around The rule doesn't bend, Because the taste doesn't taste the same again

It's easy feeling righteous when removed All you'll get as what you wanna hear It hurts because it should How else am I to make it clear?

I could never be the one that you want, don't ask. Well, here's to living in the moment 'Cause it passed.

Maybe a lie is what I need sometimes You told the most and best of anyone You said to "keep me in your pocket" So I carried you

You better choose your words carefully Because I'm not your anything Gonna stay here in my place And you'll stay in yours because You're only good as what you're good for

I pace around the room to spend the time Waiting while the burning pictures fade One thing to make your mind And another to say its name

I could never be the one that you want, don't ask. Well, here's to living in the moment 'Cause it passed, it passed.

I'm still carrying a little hope that Maybe things could get different now Is that so wrong, is that so wrong, is that so wrong?

Would I see you tonight
At a place we go?
Could going through the motions, lead to real emotion?
I wanna make things right
Before time runs out.
It was like you said, the taste don't taste like it should
Roll down the windows
Let the cold air come in
Slap my face just feel you somehow again, again....

I could never be the one that you want, don't ask. Well, here's to living in the moment 'Cause it passed. I could never be the one that you want, don't ask. Yeah, here's to living in the moment 'Cause it passed. 'Cause it passed, it passed, it passed.
