It Matters

Jimmy Eat World

We're losing several steps ahead, it's strange Anything you do, anyway you move Then with any strain it feels so helpless A trap we build ourselves, we can be without

When you pull away, I say it matters With a quiet face, I break, I shatter Then okay, we'll trade but after Nothing new to see, saying what you mean When you pull away

I imagine talks last all night

Never bringing up, but every day I want to

I think about us dancing, but it's not something we do

Well there's my dream, doesn't it sound good to you?

When you pull away, I say it matters With a quiet face, I break, I shatter Then okay, we'll trade but after Nothing new to see, saying what you mean When you pull away

When you pull away, I say it matters With a quiet face, I break, I shatter Then okay, we'll trade but after Nothing new to see, saying what you mean When you pull away

Nothing new to see, saying what you mean When you pull away
