Blue Roses

Jimmy Nail

Blue roses will blossom in the snow Before I ever let you go Blue roses will grow up to the sky Before I ever make you cry, blue roses

You need more reassurance Than a frightened orphan child That I'm always gonna want you That I'll always be beguiled

So I search for words to tell you That my love for you is blind But this fragment of a children's song Is all that I can find

Blue roses will blossom in the snow Before I ever let you go Blue roses will grow up to the sky Before I ever make you cry, blue roses

This nursery rhyme is corny It is stranded out of time But it's simple and it's honest And since when was that a crime?

And perhaps whoever wrote it Loved someone like I love you For in matters of the heart I've found There's little that is new

Blue roses will blossom in the snow Before I ever let you go Blue roses will grow up to the sky Before I ever make you cry

Blue roses will blossom in the snow Before I ever let you go Blue roses will grow up to the sky Before I ever make you cry Before I ever make you cry, blue roses
