

Dragons

Jimmy Nail

The first time I saw you I realised at once
You were an angel in torment
How could I desert you I vowed in that moment
Nothing in this world
Or any other would ever threaten or hurt you

Dragons rage outside your door
But I'm on my way to save you
Demons wage unholy war
But I'm on my way to save you

The forces of darkness may mobilise
One hundred million demons
An army to keep you far from me
Determined to stop me they'll
Spend eternity regretting
They ever crossed me
They'll suffer - believe me

Dragons rage outside your door
But I'm on my way to save you
Demons wage unholy war
But I'm on my way to save you

Dragons rage outside your door
But I'm on my way to save you
Demons wage unholy war
But I'm on my way to save you
To save you
To save you
