

Grow

JJ Heller

Why did the rain go away
Was it something I said
Counting the minutes of the day
Till the sun goes to bed

Stubborn cloud, I watch you rolling past
What would it take for you to cry at last
Don't be afraid to let your feelings show
If we dry up, then we won't grow

Should I tell you a story to make you sad
I've seen my share of pain
You've stolen the joy that I had
Every last drop down the drain

Chorus

Isn't the load that you carry heavy
Isn't it time to let it down already
