

Not Mine Anyway

JJ Heller

I don't know what to say
No words could ever be enough
I stand up because you hold me here
Because you brought me here tonight

Without you we all fall down
Without you we all fall

You make life worth living
You make me want to start giving
More and more away to you
It's not mine anyway

I could not ever try so hard
I could buy a place in your heart
But here I am
My name written on your hands
Because you paid the debt I owe

Without you we all fall down
Without you we all fall

You make life worth living
You make me want to start giving
More and more away to you
It's not mine anyway

Without you we all fall down
Without you we all fall

You make life worth living
You make me want to start giving
More and more away to you
It's not mine anyway

You make life worth living
You make me want to start giving
More and more away to you
It's not mine anyway
