

Only You

JJ Heller

Are you the little girl who locks herself inside her room
Waiting to be rescued
Or are you the captain of war
That he began to prove his merit as a man

Everyone is known for something
What's it going to be for you

Are you the picture of perfection
But when it comes down to it you don't have a clue
Or are you the center of attention at all times
God help the man who takes away your chance to shine

Everyone is known for something
What's it going to be for you
No one else can paint your portrait
With an unobstructed view

You're the one who gets to choose
How much of you you've got to lose
How much of you you've yet to gain
Who are you...
