

Redemption

JJ Heller

When the dying's over
When the last tear falls
When the empty wells overflow
To fill us all

We'll see it with our very own eyes
Very own eyes and we'll realize
We're alive for the very first time
The very first time

Burdens we have carried
Melt away like snow
Loved ones gone before us
Welcome us home

We'll see it with our very own eyes
Very own eyes and we'll realize
We're alive for the very first time
The very first time

Someday we will remember how to fly
Then we will rise like embers burning bright
Everything broken will be whole again

We are the ransomed
We are the redeemed
We are the bride and shall forever be
Loved from the start without end
It will not end

We'll see it with our very own eyes
Very own eyes and we'll realize
We're alive for the very first time
The very first (time)
