

Where I Land

JJ Heller

You're different from the way I thought you'd be
But here you are in front of me
So full of light I watch it overflow
A lovely mystery

And I am lost for words
You're more than I deserve

You have a way of stirring up my soul
Did you know
When you hold me in your arms the way you do
It feels like coming home

And I am lost for words
You're more than I deserve
And when I cannot stand
You are where I land

And when the years have stolen youth away
I will stay
You will be the keeper of my heart
Until my final day
