

Who You Are

JJ Heller

All she wanted, was a baby to hold, and she's still waiting, at forty-one years old, her life feels like a tragedy, and its driving her down to her knees shes praying "I don't know, I don't know what your doing, but I know who you are."

It was after midnight, when he answered the phone, the doctor said his daughter, was never coming home, sometimes life doesn't make any sense, of war and pain and accident, hes praying "I don't know, I don't know what your doing, but I know who you are."

You are the fathers heart, and a love that's wild, and you know what it's like to lose, yeah you know what it's like to lose, what it's like to lose a child,

Sometimes I don't know, I don't know what your doing, I don't know, I don't know what your doing, but I know who you are.
