

I'm too numb to feel pain
I'm too grown to play this game
How'd I get here?
You're too young to fall in love
I'm too dumb to give up
How'd we get here?
I can see it in your distant eyes
The things you tell yourself is lies
I swear you wanna compromise
But, then again, what do I know?
You tell me I should take my time
That we should both go live our lives
See, I don't wanna cross no lines
But there's just one thing you should know

That it's alright, if you want you can stay
Take your time 'cause you know that I'll wait
I'll wait patiently

Through sunshine and rain
Cigarettes and shame somehow I got here
You tell me enough's enough
Then you gone again and hit me up
Tell me, what's goin' on here?

Just drink a little more red wine
C'mon baby, let's unwind
We can watch another sunrise
But then again, what do I know?
See, I don't wanna change my mind
And I don't wanna leave you behind
Never wanna compromise
But there's just one thing you should know

That it's alright, if you want I can stay
You know I can stay
And take your time 'cause you know that I'll wait
I'll wait patiently
Patiently
I said patiently
Take your time 'cause you know that I'll wait
I'll wait patiently
