Downtime

Jo Dee Messina

I haven't been myself these days according to friends I tend to lose part of me when my heart's on the mend I'll be alright it's safe to say 'Cause just like your love this is only a phase Oh, I've been on this road a time or two, it's nothing new I'll get on my feet and over you I tell myself that everything will be just fine I'm just going through a little down-time Some might think I've gotten caught up in heartache's aftermath But your memory's taken second to a good book and nice long bat h I must admit it threw me at first But I'm convinced I'm over the worst Oh, I've been on this road a time or two, it's nothing new I'll get on my feet and over you I tell myself that everything will be just fine I'm just going through a little down-time Time is meant to play the part

In taking care of broken hearts

Oh, I've been on this road a time or two, it's nothing new I'll get on my feet and over you I tell myself that everything will be just fine I'm just going through a little down-time

I'm just going through a little down-time
