

Summer Kisses

Joan Armatrading

I wonder how I would really feel
If the situation should arise and I caught you
Cheating on me
I wonder what it would be like
To feel the tears fall from my eyes as I watch you
Walk away

And I think about that every now and then
I think about what it would be like
To never have you here by my side and I
Go to pieces
I fight the urge to play the scenes where
The broken hearted lover lies bleeding
I know it's never gonna be true
But I can't stop thinking

If we were so intertwined
That we are lost in our world
And we were blind
Blind to fragments of decay
Blind to signs we should obey
I think about that every now and then and I
Go to pieces

I fight the urge to play the scenes where
The broken hearted lover lies bleeding
I know it's never gonna be true
But I can't stop thinking
How I'd feel
How I'd feel

You know I love you baby

I know you're there if ever I fall
I know you're there if ever I fall
I know you're there if ever I fall
With those
Summer kisses

I know you're there if ever I fall
I know you're there if ever I fall
I know you're there if ever I fall
With those
Summer kisses
