How did we get to this place?
I thought that we would have settled this by now I thought that blood was thicker than mud
I guess I was wrong

If love was a ship sailing oceans deep Then your ship's sinkin' 'cause it sprung a leak You'll learn the truth but it may take a while Because you're livin' in a world of denial

All we have is our family an' our friends Why let this thing come to a painful end? I thought that we'd embrace Instead we pull away I guess I was wrong

If love was a ship sailing oceans deep Then your ship's sinkin' 'cause it sprung a leak You'll learn the truth but it may take a while Because you're livin' in a world of denial

Go on - keep on playin' dirty
Go on - keep on breaking all the rules
Go on - keep doin' what your doin'
You're gonna look good on the front page news

If love was a ship sailing oceans deep Then your ship's sinkin' 'cause it sprung a leak You'll learn the truth but it may take a while Because you're livin' in a world of denial

You got control so you just don't care
But it won't be me who'll go runnin' scared
You'll learn the truth but it may take a while
Cause you're just livin' in a world of denial
