This Side of the Blue

Joanna Newsom

Svetlana sucks lemons across from me
And I am progressing abominably
And I do not know my own way to the sea
But the saltiest sea knows its own way to me

And I find myself toeing the embarcadero

And I find myself knowing the things that I knew

Which is all that you can know on this side of the blue

And Jaime has eyes black and shiny as boots
And they march at you, two-by-two, re-loo re-loo
When she looks at you, you know she's nowhere near through
It's the hardest heart beating this side of the blue

And the signifieds butt heads with the signifiers And we all fall down slack-jawed to marvel at words While across the sky sheet the impossible birds In a steady, illiterate movement homewards

And Gabriel stands beneath forest and moon See them rattle and boo, see them shake, see them loom See him fashion a cap from a page of Camus See him navigate deftly this side of the blue

And the rest of our lives will the moments accrue When the shape of their goneness will flare up anew And we do what we have to do, re-loo re-loo Which is all you can do on this side of the blue Oh it's all that you can do on this side of the blue
