

So, What Would I Do

Joe Bonamassa

Home for a day
Six more nights, baby
When I go on the road
Feel my presence diminishing, baby

All I need is the truth and a faith
That true love brings

Bless your soul for loving me
And my faults included
Oh, I know
You're the rock
That keeps me grounded

I know it can be a long, winding road
You know I love you so

All I have is you on my mind
You're all that's left for me in my life

'Cause I want to know
You've seen enough with me
'Cause I will survive
This long time away

So, what would I do?
I could go on without you, darling
Oh, I don't know

Now I want to know
You see a life with me
I'll survive
This long time away

So, what would I do?
Just sit and suffer, baby
So, what would I do?
I could go on without you, darling
Oh, I don't know
