When She Dances

Joe Bonamassa

The world is cold tonight But everything will be alright She walks into the room Stars to know her light

When she dances I see where my only chance is I feel my whole life start, babe When she loves me You know she really loves me She takes it to the heart

The club is closing down But will we still hang around To hear another tune And feel this love we found

When she dances I see where my only chance is I feel my whole life start, babe When she loves me You know she really loves me She takes it to the heart

The night's so fine The rose is mine

She's dancing just for me I see with every move she makes How good it's gonna be

When she dances I see where my only chance is I feel my whole life start, babe When she loves me You know she really loves me She takes it to the heart

She takes it to the heart
